APPEALS FOR CLOTHING TO AMERICAN

Children's Shoes and Overcoats Needed Particularly by Anxious Parents

The Boston Evening American Helping Hand, organized to act as a go-between for charitably inclined people and those needing clothing and other aid, has received a number of requests from families which apparently are in urgent need.

A few of these appeals are printed today. Persons desiring to help are asked to investigate the case that appears to them. Addresses will be given by the Helping Hand department. Liberty 4000. Persons desiring to donate to the Helping Hand should call on the Boston Evening American, 5 Winter Street.

Clothing of all sorts, especially shoes and overcoats, and all kinds of children's clothing, is urgently needed. Warm clothing that is still useful and clean will be eagerly accepted by many anxious mothers and fathers. Such wear as may be received will be used for the quick relief of the needy. The first published appeal speaks for themselves.

ASKS CLOTHING, STOVE
(Refer to Case A)

As I am a daily reader of your wonderful paper and know all the help it has given people, I wonder if you know of anyone who has any old underclothes or children's clothes that I can use for, as I have nine children and they are in need of clothing.

My husband has been out of work for five months and it is almost impossible to get the children into school because of the need of clothing. I would also like to get an old stove, as we live in a single house and it is so cold. My husband and I have been burning the stove and we have been burning the stove.

I would really appreciate clothing of any kind. (This woman lives in Bedford. Anyone wishing to investigate this case may learn the address by calling the Boston Evening American Helping Hand, Liberty 4000, and ask for Case A.)

WANT CLOTHING, STOVE
(Refer to Case B)

My husband has been out of work since June and since then has only been able to get an occasional odd job. I have three children, a boy and two girls. The boy is badly in need of clothing. Two of the girls are going to school and the other, a boy 4 years old, is home. I am sure anyone who can help me, I will certainly appreciate anything they can do.

Also, if I am not asking too much, I think in anyone who can help me, I will certainly appreciate anything they can do. (This woman lives in Dorchester. Anyone wishing to investigate this case may learn the address by calling the Boston Evening American Helping Hand, Liberty 4000, and ask for Case B.)

SEVEN NEED CLOTHING
(Refer to Case C)

I am writing to ask you if you will please help me. I have seven children and I am in need of clothing to keep them warm. Their ages are: boys, 5 and 14, and the girls, 11, 15, and 18. I wear 42 clothing and my husband also 42 and 38 or 40 clothing. I will be grateful for anything given to us, as we need everything. Please do not forget us.

(This woman lives in Charlestown. Anyone wishing to investigate this case may learn the address by calling the Boston Evening American Helping Hand, Liberty 4000, and ask for Case C.)

British Idea for Land War Limitation Accepted at Geneva Session

Geneva, Nov. 14 (AP)—The preparatory disarmament commission today accepted the principle of limitation of land war material by the budgetary method, which the American government, through its representative, Ambassador Hugh S. Gibson, has declined to accept for itself.

The principle was embodied in a resolution presented by Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, for Great Britain.

Station nations supported the resolution, including Canada, France and Japan. Three nations opposed it, Russia, Germany and Italy.

The United States, Sweden, Turkey and the United States abstained from voting.

Roosevelt Committee Report Calls Upon Business First to Provide the Relief

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 14 (AP)—That the state government would take some steps to relieve unemployment distress if private business presents no plan was indicated by Governor Roosevelt's unemployment committee report today.

These seven recommendations were presented:

Business and determined effort by business management to teach sound business fluctuations in production and employment through well-tested methods of regularization.

URGES STATE FUNDS The committee also urged temporary unemployment compensation by industrial and policy changes.

Increased appropriations for state employment service and full efforts to obtain cooperation between employers and labor.

Organization in communities of committees to consider local unemployment problems.

The committee, headed by Governor Roosevelt, also includes Charles F. Johnson, president of the National Business Association, and others.

Ban Geographies, Teach From News, Editor Urges

All geographies should be out of the window and school pupils should be taught with a geographical globe and a newspaper.

Such is the belief of Donald F. Rose, editorial writer of a Philadelphia newspaper, who is the State House at the meeting of the New England Association of School Superintendents.

Rose, a former school teacher, said: "I believe that an appalling amount of time is spent in childhood in learning things which do not matter, remembering things which will never be needed and doing silly tricks upon which an intelligent man need never waste his time."

President John A. Coughlin of Tufts College told the superintendents that there is something undemocratic about private preparatory schools.

"The superintendents," he asserted, "are a mistake. Rich men should not be able to get their children into the best schools."

Ocean Air Mail Service Planned

Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—Plans for an Anglo-American air mail line across the Atlantic today were set by W. Irving Glover, second assistant postmaster general, to be settled.

"Pan-American Airways, Inc., and Imperial Airways, Ltd., of England, will operate the line, which has been planned to begin within another year," Glover said.

The Postoffice Department is prepared to give mail to the line.

Films Show Death Struggle of Andree's Polar Party

Stockholm, Nov. 14 (AP)—Much of the diary written by members of the Andree Polar balloon expedition in 1897 has been obliterated by time and weather since they died, but they left behind them 20 undeveloped films which supply some of the gaps in the story of their tragic end.

English today said that Prof. Hertberg had developed 20 films found in among the expedition remains. A number of the negatives showed the balloon after its forced landing on the ice, which appears to have been caused by loss of gas and ice on the envelope.

Another photograph shows Andree standing beside the carcass of a polar bear he killed. Others show episodes in the march over the ice, and one is of the camp on Hvitvatn, which was the island of their death.

These pictures will appear exclusively in the Boston Evening American and Boston Sunday Advertiser.

WARLIKE ACTS LAID TO FRANCE

Moscow, Nov. 14 (AP)—While there has been no actual evidence indicating possibility of a diplomatic break between Russia and France, the official Government organ, Izvestia, today denounced the French, as instigating the alleged intervention plot against the Soviet Union for which eight Russians now are awaiting trial.

"We don't fear intervention," says the paper. "If we are at back, we will be able to shift from defense to advance."

Izvestia adds that if intervention does come it will mean the beginning of a world war.

SUPPLE AND shimmering, satin is a favorite for the type of dress that relies on smart lines for success.

SATIN WITH its lustre dulled! That is the latest caprice of French fabric makers. Can you imagine a satin of a thick quality like this? Du-charme makes one like that; Rodier, on the other hand, features a supple, thinner satin, which would seem to be more generally popular. Although the dulled satins are first in the fashion news this fall, lustrous satins also appear in great quantities.

SPEAKING OF highly lustrous satins, one French house is featuring a crepe satin phosphore. This is all of artificial silk with a shiny surface, incredibly liquid and metallic in appearance.

WHITE ALONE is very smart, but so is white with an accent color. The gown pictured was designed by that master of youthful style and line, Lanvin. Of white satin, it has an oval décolletage, deeper in back, and softly draped. A wide band of cerise blue satin, beginning in points each side front, looping in battle bows, finally gathered at center, the long end forming a train. Below this is a graceful peplum, and the rather full skirt is ankle length.

THE RIBBON belt is a feature of the evening mode. Belts of gregain adorn evening frocks of silk and lace. Belts of velvet ribbon and velvet slashes are worn with other smart evening frocks. Turquoise blue as an accessory color keeps right on happening. Tabors shows frocks belted in turquoise, with which turquoise jewelry is worn; flowers toned turquoise add a new note.

WITH THANKSGIVING in the offing, we find we are thankful for several things, modestly musing: "We are thankful that the first wave of stuffy elaboration is passing—some shops do show beautifully simple yet feminine clothes—everyone has fixed high waistlines—wearing clothes are as distinctively lovely and varied—there are fewer clipped hairlines—and that we can be curvaceous in clothes and still look right!"

SHAW DEFENDS SOVIET AIMS

London, Nov. 13—George Bernard Shaw today defended Soviet Russia as a force for European peace.

In the Evening Standard he discussed Dean Legat's warning that if the Russian revolution ends in a dictatorship, or second cardon, Russia may again become the most dangerous enemy of European peace. Shaw said:

"It is obvious that friends of peace must strain every nerve to support the Soviet government and pray earnestly for the success of its exemplary five-year scheme. We need a five-year scheme badly in this country."

"If the chance of heart towards peace is sincere, we should not continue hating Russia for making peace at Brest-Litovsk and for thereby calling the peace bluff of the powers at Geneva."

FRIDAY, SATURDAY, EVENINGS

INDIA'S HOPE OF HOME RULE STIFLED

London, Nov. 14 (AP)—Indian hopes of immediate dominion status for India were dealt another stiff blow today.

Making immediate dominion status a minimum concession, India's delegates to the round table conference were presented the report and recommendations of the viceroy, Lord Irwin, and his Government, which foresees a distant day when a large degree of self-government will be attained but meanwhile envisage only gradual development toward that end.

The report will supplement as a basis for discussion in the round table conference the report and recommendations of the commission of Sir John Simon on Indian statutory reforms, which, published several months ago, excited a storm of protest in Indian nationalist circles.

In neither the Simon report nor the Irwin recommendations, however, is there much to satisfy the demands of Mahatma Gandhi and his Nationalist followers, who are engaged in a campaign of civil disobedience to secure immediate severance of India from Britain.

The Simon commission report contemplates a federation of Indian states, with a strong central government responsible to the British crown, and with the British crown retaining the responsibilities of defense, finance, and foreign relations.

Lord Irwin proposes divorce of the Indian government from Britain in an even greater degree, practically all of the powers of the crown to devolve upon the viceroy, who may be removed at the crown's pleasure.

Observers comment that there is no intention of endowing the Indian native with the final voice in shaping his destiny.

Court Holds 2 in Brockton Killing

Brockton, Nov. 14 (AP)—James P. Tevin, 37, father of five children, 20, was held without bail today in district court charged with the murder of Benjamin Khoury, 35, beaten to death in a North Montello street Sept. 17. Judge William G. Howe set Nov. 22 for a hearing.

Dr. Dennis, Clark U. Professor, Dies

Worcester, Nov. 14 (AP)—Dr. Alfred Lewis Plimsee Dennis, author and professor of international relations at Clark University since 1923, died today at his home here. He was born May 21, 1874, in Beirut, Syria, while his parents were abroad.

Gypsies Put 'Curse' on Illinois Court for Speed Fine

Evansville, Ill., Nov. 14 (AP)—Evansville was under a gypsy curse today, but apparently no one was getting excited about it.

It happened when five gypsies, charged with speeding a motor car, sprinkled incense about the court room of Magistrate Harry H. Porter, explaining this was a curse on the city which would take effect if it and when they were fined or given other treatment they considered unfavorable.

Magistrate Porter fined them a total of $35.

Jugoslavia Arrest 30 Hungarians as Spies

Budapest, Nov. 14 (AP)—A report from Budapest, Yugoslavia, today said 30 Hungarians, among them George Bantha, chairman of the Hungarian political party, had been arrested on a charge of espionage.

QUICK COMFORT FOR STOMACH ILLS IN DIAEPSIN!

Advertisement

"I want to tell every stomach sufferer about my experience with Pape's Diaepsin," says Clarence E. Kille, popular conductor, at 821 1/2 Eye St., N. E., Washington, D. C. "I tried a lot of things for indigestion, but nothing really helped until I was persuaded to try Diaepsin."

"Now I even eat cabbage without any distress afterwards. It used to cause real suffering. I am not blotted after meals like I used to be. I feel much stronger and better in every way. A medicine must have real merit to bring forth enthusiastic statements like this. And when not one, but hundreds, even thousands, are telling the same story of success, there seems no reason to doubt the day-in and day-out reliability of Pape's Diaepsin to help stomach sufferers."

"These harmless, candy-like tablets, which relieve the heartburn, nausea, belching, headaches, dizziness, gas and other symptoms of indigestion or 'acid-dyspepsia' so quickly and pleasantly, are swiftly becoming the world's most popular remedy for digestive ills. Millions of homes are used yearly! All druggists sell them, or you prefer to try Diaepsin by buying 'Pape's Diaepsin,' enclosing W. B. A., and you will receive a sample box FREE."

Why Fear Middle Age?

No woman need fear middle age if her health is good. Hundreds of active, contented middle-aged women are telling their friends that they owe their health and vigor to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

Mrs. Clara Riley,
2100 Paxton & 4th Ave.,
Sioux City, Iowa

"I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at Change of Life. I will take it every spring and fall and it keeps me in good health. I am able to take care of an eight room house and garden, at the age of 71 years. It is a wonderful medicine for women. They should give it a good trial by taking about five bottles."

Mrs. Bertha Stephens,
21 E. Ross St.,
Lancaster, Pennsylvania

"I was very nervous and rundown and weighed less than one hundred pounds. I felt tired and weak and I often had to lie down. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I read the advertisement in the paper. Now I eat well, sleep well, and have good color. In fact I couldn't feel any better and I weigh one hundred fifty-five pounds. I am glad to answer letters."

Hannah M. Eversmeyer,
707 N-16 St.,
East St. Louis, Illinois

"I had a nervous breakdown and could not do the work I have to do around the house. Through one of your booklets I found how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped other women and I went to the drug store and got six bottles. It has done me good in more ways than one and now I work every day without having to lie down. I will answer all letters."

The today's meeting was open with greetings from the president of the New York Women's Club, Mrs. Chester L. Foster.

Mrs. Frederic R. Simpson, chairman of international relations, spoke of the work of her department at the afternoon session, declaring that never before has the interest of ornament and distinction abounded the interest of women as it does today.

"The story is told," she said, "that if Abel were around, Cain would not have killed him; but that if Cain were not around, he would not have killed Abel. So you see the question before us now is ornament or disarrangement."

The afternoon program closed with the presentation of a play, "The Story of the World's Fair," by Mrs. J. H. Clark.

Martha Gives Three Cake Recipes

From Martha Lee's Friday Morning Broadcast

Now comes the season of making cakes. Cakes for Thanksgiving or Christmas, or New Year's, or even for the ever present bridge party.

We've had a number of times that it seems we can't have too many of them. I do hope that you will find the following recipes will be just what you need. I am sure that they will be.

There is probably no more popular cake than the Lady Baltimore, and while it looks like food for the most fastidious, it really isn't so hard to make once you know the "why" and "wherefore".

Make a plain butter cake as follows:

- 1 cup butter
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 2 cups cake flour
 - 3 level tsp. baking powder
 - 2 egg whites
 - 1 tsp. flavoring extract
- Beat or work the butter with a spoon until it is light and fluffy. Then gradually add the sugar, the butter, beating the mixture meanwhile. Add the egg whites, one at a time, and beat until stiff. Add the flour, the baking powder, and the flavoring extract, and beat until smooth. Bake in a 9x5 inch loaf pan at 350° for 45 minutes.

Now through the use of the mixture until smooth. Add the flour, the baking powder, and the flavoring extract, and beat until smooth. Bake in a 9x5 inch loaf pan at 350° for 45 minutes.

Another favorite cake which is baked so many on the way to day is the Checkerboard Cake, looking so difficult, and really not

Marmors From the Kitchen

Did you know a little marmalade rammed around the class rooms the other day and gathered bits of news from here and there? It is so, and said little marmalade whispered his findings in my ear and they are so nice sounding I must print them for all and sundry to see.

"I work on the Transcript," said one young lady, "but always read Martha Lee's page. I'm supposed to be doing special work now, but just had to sneak away for a few minutes. The class are wonderful."

"Four of us girls have formed a cooking club in Lynn and every week visit each other's homes and experiment with Martha's recipes. It really appeared to be a bridge club and then what we cook is served for refreshments, but we haven't played any bridge yet."

Watch out for the little mouse who loves to find out what's going on, or if you want to leave simply fazed away? The marmalade means as much as a nice bit of cheese in the young life.

"Why I changed to Chipso"

Mrs. H. W.—
"Large-size package lasts me ten days"

"I wash daily for three small children, and use Chipso for dishwashing as well, writes this busy West Coast housewife. I have never found another soap that would do the work of Chipso does for anyone near the post."

Mrs. W. S. A.—
"A mass of lovely suds—immediately!"

The mountain of suds made by Chipso Granules looks so rich, so alive and ready to work, that this Canton, Me., housewife simply laid in the dishes and let them soak for a while. "After a few minutes, the day's work was done," she writes. "My hands are certainly going to get a rest after these years of scrubbing."

Mrs. M. S.—
"Even the children enjoy 'doing dishes'!"

"Chipso Granules make such wonderful suds like blowing millions of soap bubbles all at once, they say. And they seem to wash so fast that dishes are clean and shining in a very few minutes. With Chipso Granules, there's not even any more scrubbing about the way the post and pans."

WATCH YOUR GLUTEN

"Any treatment of flour," says Dr. Copeland, America's foremost authority on the subject, "damages the adhesive and sticky qualities of the gluten, it also damages the bread that is made from that flour. It is impossible to make good bread without a good gluten content. Batching processes are frequently damaging to this important part of flour. The safe way is to buy Ceresota, the famous softest flour."

MODERNISM CALLED 'BLIND'

Principal Conspired to Make Things Unpleasant, Says Miss Harding

Modernism teaching in a Milton classroom was merely a subterfuge to force the resignation of Miss Edith Harding, who until yesterday occupied the room of the brightest class in Vose grammar school.

Her ousting by the school committee after an extraordinary hearing which lasted until 1 a. m. was one of internal strife, according to a number of parents who attended the meeting.

CLASH WITH PRINCIPAL
In fact, say these parents, friction between school officials and teachers has been apparent for more than a year and only the insubordination charge against Miss Harding disclosed a "whispering campaign" which has caused widespread mistrust in the teaching staff.

The appointment of Miss Harding last September proved to be the spark which ignited the feeling of discontent that had existed among the other teachers. Miss Harding declared herself openly against conditions in the Vose school after her teaching methods were criticized from the principal.

The latter protested to Supt. of Schools Horace Turner and later to the school committee when Supt. Turner declined to reprimand the new teacher.

OFFERED TO QUIT
Miss Harding, who had established an excellent reputation as a teacher in Malden and Somerville schools before she took graduate courses in Bates College and Yale, offered to resign if the board's decision was against her.

Friends prevailed upon her to fight the charges and thereby played the reason for her departure with Miss Woodbury. Miss Mary Miller, a member of the school committee, stated after the hearing that she had voted for the resignation because Miss Harding had admitted insubordination.

The ousted teacher reaffirmed her stand today and stated that she felt she was the only one who had acted "above board" in the row which led to her dismissal.

"I have no ill-will against Miss Woodbury or anyone who conspired to make things unpleasant for me while I taught at the Vose school," she said.

Ousted and Glad of It

OUTED because her modern theories clashed with the principles of teaching in Milton schools, Miss Edith Harding, until yesterday teacher of the brilliant pupils in Vose grammar school, declared today that she was glad to be rid of the petty jealousy which she encountered in the Milton school department. She said she "refused to be cowed" by the principal.

For the while I taught at the Vose school," she said. George F. Moulton, chairman of the school committee, said today that the policemen stationed at the door of the school yesterday were there to keep order, and not to prevent Miss Harding entering the school in case she returned for her belongings.

STATE TO GET $70,000,000 IN XMAS FUND

$632,000,000 to Be Distributed Throughout U. S.; $7,756,000 for Boston

Eight thousand banking institutions will distribute $632,000,000 to about 11,000,000 members of the Christmas Club within the next two weeks, according to an estimate given out yesterday by Herbert F. Rawlin, president of the Christmas Club in New York.

Of the amount distributed Massachusetts shows the largest per capita state total with more than $70,000,000, according to the figures, while Boston will distribute approximately $7,756,000.

Although the total amount is a record distribution, the increase over last year is said to be less than the normal annual increase. The average amount received by each member is $58.00 while in 1929 it was $50.50. Several institutions in the country report an actual increase over last year, but curtailed payoffs in industrial areas have occasioned a small reduction in the general average.

The lower average accumulation is more than offset by an increase in the number of members made possible by a larger number of banking institutions offering this form of service.

Conclusive Evidence That Today Furniture Prices Are Low High-grade Furnishings For Your Home Were Never So Easy To Own.

Here is an exact reproduction of our advertisement in the Boston Globe of November 10, 1929, just a year ago, featuring prices that, at the time, we considered very low. Some of the items shown are still being manufactured, and the greatly lowered prices at which we are able to offer them, proves convincingly, even to the incredulous, that now is truly a buyers' market. Compare please, the present prices of this identical merchandise with those in effect last November.

THE DINING SET pictured, originally 198.00 and reduced to 169.50 is now on our floors for 129.00.

A PARLOR SUITE of the grade shown reduced from 239.00 to 179.50 may now be had for 129.00.

ALL BEDROOM FURNITURE shows similar price concessions.

The same type BUTTERFLY TABLE at 19.45, is now 12.75—

—And so it goes throughout the store—Everything down from 20% to 40%.

Those who buy under present conditions will profit materially, while those who procrastinate will surely pay very much more—

HARVARD'S BEST TEAM TO FACE H. C.

FANNING WITH George Underwood

Dave Morey, Coach at Bates, a Real Football Wizard

Don't Forget Xmas Fund Boxing, Monday

When old man Gray sat in the Country Churchyard and pined those lines on how full many a gem of pure ray serenity dark unthought of caves of ocean bare, and how full many a flower is born to blush unseen and waste its sweetness on the desert air, he certainly said a mouthful. Far be it from us to call the grand old State of Maine, which is God's country for certain, and how we would like to be up there watching a runaway for the flash of a "white flag," and the snort of a startled buck—a desert. Far be it from us to turn a haughty nose up at Bates. But when you think how the sports pages have been plastered with headlines on some of the football coaches and consider how many football teams Dave Morey actually has MADE and how little recognition has been given him, you can't blame us for pilfering a paragraph from Gray to properly express our wounded feelings.

They're "curled" Dave up in Bates. Of course the grade and undergraders of Maine, Bates, Bowdoin and Colby all cockle at their ears when Bates, coached by Morey, won the Maine championship for the second year, last Tuesday. Close followers of New England football looked at the result of the final game and a solidified, "Hm-m-m-m. So Morey has put over another winner." That ended it.

Coach All Hemlock! Dave Morey should be getting some of the headlines and countless columns. Keaney, Cavanaugh and Chick Morean have been begging. Dave has earned them.

The little Maine college is a little Maine town hasn't any press bureau, hasn't a great stadium to house the home, hasn't any of the things it means publicity and the best. And, outside of men from college and dyed-in-the-wool football fans, who have Dave Morey represents "X" unknown quantity.

For a few seconds and try consider the coaching record of the former Dartmouth coach. After turning out some great players around this state, a coaching berth at Middlebury, Vermont. Morey brought Middlebury down to Boston and held Harvard to a 6-0-6 tie.

Mrs. Morey's health demanded a change in climate. So Dave moved down to old Alabama to coach Auburn. Morey's little Auburn team held the dreadfully celebrated Crimson Tide to a scoreless tie. Don't just reflect whether it was a scoreless tie. The game ended in a draw, anyway.

Morey came North again, this time to Bates. That was last year. Dave took an eleven with not only an unbroken chain of defeats but with the record of not having scored a single point in two games, and the first year won the State of Maine championship!

Repeated again this year. And yet you read columns and columns about the great Rockwell, Meehan, Cavanaugh and others. Morey scarcely draws a mention. If that isn't the irony of fate, what is?

Looking for a coach, some one of the BIG colleges. You don't have to look further than DAVE MOREY. Dave Morey is something more than a good coach. He is a GREAT one.

FOOTBALL FIREWORKS
Note that some of the boys seem to think that Harvard, Yale and the rest of the boys away from Bates to take things a bit easy with Holy Cross tomorrow. That's a mistake. Bates will not let her. In the second place it would be a grave mistake in both football and training psychology for Harvard to play Bates and coaches, with the crucial game on Old Eli just around the corner, to send the Crimson team into tomorrow's game without all decks being cleared for action and the speed lever thrown over into the high.

Psychology has won many contests in the great game of life as well as on the football field. No college is hiring a high salaried coach or trainer, who doesn't understand something about sport psychology.

Knowing that we are willing to wage a new winter battle against a plugged nickel that tomorrow's shiny old there in the Stadium will produce the fastest, fiercest, most ferocious—and it's about time Harvard stopped acting like a scared jackrabbit and gave a good imitation of a wildcat whose breakfast had disagreed with him—football the Crimson has uncocked this season.

John Harvard is going to forget some of his dignity, tomorrow. Wait and see!

To win Harvard will have to show better and more aggressive football than the Crimson yet has displayed this year. It has been boiling around in Harvard's system struggling to get out for some time. It will have to get out tomorrow or the Purple will wave triumphantly over the Crimson.

Captain McEwan—maybe we should say Major or General, for when addressing his troops, his policy is to call a Harvard "Colonel" and a Captain "General"—is bringing a strong team down from Worcester.

Coach McEwan is challenging the Purple to a 6-0-6 tie. The country's best, to a 6-0-6 tie. The only other team to beat the Purple this year was Brown. Good judges of football tell us the Crimson that day played inspired, unbeatable football. Forgetting it, it doesn't seem the Purple is in the pink. The Crusaders have been losing for some time.

Notre Dame will try with Drake at South Bend, with the second and third string substitutes carrying the load for most of the afternoon. "Rock" will use his state just long enough to give them a work out, for he knows Northwestern next week and will require the services of every man to turn back the Hanley coached eleven.

Alabama, the only Southern team, without ablemish on its record for this season, will rest up for the University of Georgia, with Louisiana State University and the University of Oregon tackling Oregon State at Corvallis. The "Bleeders" have lost to California, Stanford and Washington and therefore have not been taken seriously by the men of the House of Spears. Western Maryland, which has elected successfully for two seasons, will extend its stay at Westminster, and the University of Utah will be at Boulder playing Colorado University.

Unbeaten Fordham Team Facing Big Test

The Fordham Rams are favored to win over St. Mary's College of Oakland, Cal., but the Rams will know that they have been in a football game despite the fact that the Crimson have not met a real strong eleven this season.

The Northwestern-Wisconsin tilt will be a battle. Wisconsin has a stronger team than its record in "Big 10" conference game show. A few weeks ago, Wisconsin gave the University of Pennsylvania a lesson in the art of football. They were routed out by Purdue, 7 to 6, and played a 14-0 tie in Seattle.

Arkansas is not underestimating the strength of the Redgers, and he will prep his undefeated, untied Northwestern aggregation to the limit before he sends them out to battle Wisconsin tomorrow afternoon.

Washington State is a team which holds down the California and Southern California, and in the Pacific Northwest University will show its wares in the football field in Seattle. The Washington team will have the edge of the field and should not underestimate any few tricks in reserve to his opponents of tomorrow.

Marquette will tackle the University of Detroit, a team which was one of the outstanding of the mid-West until two weeks ago, when it fell before the University of Iowa, 7 to 3, and last week was on the short end of a 12 to 7 game with Fordham.

Dartmouth Due for Hard Game With Cornell
With the exception of the Army, the undefeated, tied teams, Dartmouth, University of Georgia and Texas Christian have tough assignments. Army will work out against Kentucky Wesleyan, which will be the first of two soft games, prior to their sets with Notre Dame in Chicago. West Point will wind up their preparation for Buckeye's Hamble with Upsilon one week from tomorrow.

The Dartmouth wound will arrive in Ithaca this evening for its annual Cornell contest. On their records for the season, the Big Green has the call, for Dobbs' sack slumped badly when his Ithaca fell before Columbia.

The big attraction for the South tomorrow will be played in New Orleans, where the University of Georgia, conqueror of Yale, will meet Tulane, Southern Conference champions, last year. The only mark on Georgia's state was the scores tie with the University of Florida, an eleven which met with a wholly unexpected defeat at the hands of Furman.

Tulane went down before Northwestern, 14 to 0, but otherwise has a perfect record. The Green Wave has not played so many formidable opponents as the Cracker and it is doubtful if they can defend their title against the aggregation from Athens, Ga.

Down at St. Worth, Texas Christian and the University of Texas will fight it out for the championship of the Big Ten State. Texas Christian was tied by Simmons while the college was from Texas to St. Louis, a team which fell to the Red in the Big Ten. The Cracker, tied Century, but won over Southern Methodist.

Jackson in Final Game Tomorrow
The Jackson College field hockey team will close its season tomorrow afternoon when it meets the town team of Lexington.

The following will play for Jackson: Mildred J. Pender, Charlotte Royall, Margaret Taylor, Elaine Smith, Jeanette Callender, Dorothy South, Mrs. H. H. Adams, Clark, Bink, Sanford, Rose Dalaberto, Mabel Williams, J. J. Starnham.

Challenge for Charity
The "Joe Boy" A. C. of Beary would like to clash with the Sacred Heart H. C. of Boston, in the proceeds of the game to go to some charity. Call McEwan 13963 and ask for Larry Davis.

B. C. N FIRST NIGHT GAME

Boston College will play its first night football game when the Eagles face Loyola at the stadium in Chicago at 8 o'clock this evening.

Although they will be playing under the great handicap of more conditions and on a foreign field, the Eagles are favored to win. The rest of the team will be the same that faced Georgetown, Capt. John Dixon will be at left tackle, Bennett at left tackle, Al Marini at right tackle, Harry Deane at center, George O'Connell at right guard, Tiger Jack Young at right tackle, and Henry Bickel at right end.

Harvard Booters to Battle Brown

The undefeated Harvard soccer team will meet Brown at Providence tomorrow afternoon, in their final test of the year before facing the strong Yale eleven.

Holy Cross Coach on Air Tonight

Capt. John McEwan, coach of the Holy Cross football team will feature the "Night Before the Game" Football program, which is to be broadcast this evening at 8:15 over Stations WAT, Boston; WEAN, Providence; WOL, Worcester; and WNH, New Bedford.

Capt. McEwan, former Army coach, will be interviewed by "Herb" Treat, former Princeton and all-American tackle. Capt. McEwan will discuss the Holy Cross team and outline the highlights of the Harvard-Holy Cross game to be played tomorrow at the stadium. A musical program will include the Harvard and Holy Cross football songs.

Harvard to "Shoot Works" to Battle Brown

CRUSADERS, IN PERFECT CONDITION, CONCEDED NO CHANCE FOR VICTORY

Harvard and Holy Cross meet for the 15th time in the Harvard Stadium tomorrow, and while Harvard has been on the winning end in 11 grid battles with the Crusaders, tomorrow's tilt promises to be Purplington.

Harvard plays the game with Jack Cusack, a strong aggressive band of purple-clad warriors will sweep into the stadium set on turning back Harvard's grid team. Every Crusader is in perfect condition, something which Coach

Four Unbeaten Elevens to Face Big Tests Tomorrow

By BILL GRIMES
Of the undefeated, untied elevens, Notre Dame, Alabama, Oregon, Western Maryland and Utah are taking "breathers" tomorrow, with the Crusader captain, Hank Garrity of Jamaica Plain.

Notre Dame will try with Drake at South Bend, with the second and third string substitutes carrying the load for most of the afternoon. "Rock" will use his state just long enough to give them a work out, for he knows Northwestern next week and will require the services of every man to turn back the Hanley coached eleven.

RUM LINKED TO ART THEFTS

Liquor and the arts definitely were linked together today in municipal court when Catherine Murphy, operator of a shop in Massachusetts ave., and Peter Girard, proprietor of an art school on Cambridge at were held for a second day.

The woman and Girard are charged with receiving stolen art objects and police are seeking Joseph Osborne, former employee of the Boston Specialty Novelty Co. who swapped art objects it is charged, for potent liquor.

According to Langford, proprietor of the novelty concern, he followed Osborne and found he was selling at the Murphy shop. Then Langford said, he went into the store and found a number of

60 Near Panic as Ferry and Barge Crash in Fog

New York, Nov. 14.—As fog gripped New York harbor today the 62-foot ocean liner to Brooklyn (Whitewater) bound from Brooklyn to Staten Island, crashed into a coal barge and was damaged. Some of the ferry's upper decks were torn away with the falling of several windows were smashed. About 50 passengers aboard were panic-stricken but no one was injured. The barge was at anchor. Although injuries on the ferry were reported at once, when the barge suddenly dropped in a clip he article from his establishment.

According to Frank Sullivan, an employee of the company, he and his crew found his plane wrapped in to make trips in a taxi cab to the shop and school and each time Sullivan would bring back to Dr. J. with a demand in the plane but some a bottle of rum which made him feel good.

Why Child Walked Out

Citizens Know of League Court Perils

Richard Washburn Child's abrupt withdrawal from the so-called Institute of Current International Problems of the United States, now being held in this city, is perfectly appreciable to the fine men and women of patriotic American instincts who resent the constant efforts to drag their country into the League Court of the Nations.

Our good people of Boston, including those of pacifistic men and bent, do not need to be informed that the League Court is a court and that it has judges, some with long whiskers and others with imperial goatees.

The only question that concerns them is, "What effect could our entrance into this League of Nations Court have upon the independence of our country?" And they know the answer to that. It requires no second-sight, crystal gazing or superficial scholastic erudition.

The League Court is part and parcel of the League of Nations. It is offered by the League. It is financed by the League. It takes its orders from the League. Its principal business is to interpret the statutes of the League, which is an agglomeration of foreign Nations formed for the avowed purpose of consolidating and holding the spoils and booty they won out of the last war.

Ten years ago, in the elections of 1920, the people of the United States knew enough about the League and they knew enough about the danger to independent action by the United States in its international relationships once it entered the League that they voted to keep it out by a majority rising 7,000,000.

For the past ten years the people of America have seen every conceivable and adroit means employed to frustrate and overcome their solemn verdict. And they share Ambassador Child's indignation as these sly, repeated attempts to undermine the people's decision in violation of popular democratic government. There are enough vital problems facing us here at home without wasting our time listening to sophomoric and diluted discussions of a foreign instrument like the League of Nations whose aims and purposes are contrary to the history, traditions and future welfare of the United States.

The People Have Spoken

Congressman Luce and All Others Should Take Heed

Congressman Robert Luce of Waltham is quoted in the newspapers as saying, in substance, that the overwhelming repudiation of prohibition by the people of Massachusetts meant not a thing in his sedate life; that he will continue to be a dry Congressman.

Now Mr. Luce has performed some meritorious services for this State in the past, notably in the purification of the election system. And we would not like to see him render his record unworthy by vainly, falsely and arrogantly setting himself up as superior to the people of his district whose votes he solicits every two years.

We are living in a representative system of government, not in any ancient autocracy. And the responsive and reliable public servant knows full well that his duty is to ascertain the will of the people whenever possible and to serve them accordingly. He goes to Congress to transact the public business in the manner and in the will in which the people themselves would transact it if it were possible and convenient for them to assemble.

Let there be no doubt in Mr. Luce's mind, let us read to him a declaration on this point from the last Republican State platform which he, himself, either wrote or sponsored or both: "We believe that under our system of government the will of the majority must in the end prevail; and we believe that any mandate of the people when clearly registered in a manner provided by law should be carried out."

If the vote of the people was not a mandate against prohibition as it now exists, it was nothing.

Government and Labor

Why Not a U. S. Market?

Mr. Frank H. Nelson, the financial editor of this newspaper, suggests that the national government ought to establish a system for the marketing of labor.

We note that the Federal Farm Bureau attempts to market the products of the Western farms. He could also mention that in the past ten years the United States Department of Commerce has spent several hundred millions of dollars in locating markets all over the world for the industrial products of America's manufacturers.

Labor is the one product that practically everyone at some period in his or her life has to sell. Yet unemployed labor is thrown upon the private employment agency, local in character, and the unfiled job often continues to exist because there is no national system to contact the job and the man who would be eager to fill it.

Germany maintains a national public employment service. It not only informs the unemployed brick mason, for example, where men of his craft are needed, but if he is hard up it will lend him the money to pay his expenses to that place.

We hold up our noses and regard these government services as "highly socialistic." It takes a national shock such as we have experienced to bring us to our senses. Unless we learn some social lessons from this direful period and sensibly put them into effect we will have to confess that we deserve it all.

RIGHT KIND OF POLITICAL PULL

The skeptical would scarcely think, The cynical would never dream Of seeing this embattled pair, Now pull together as a team.

little splinter. And to see a new generation arise and announce gaily: "I can't be bothered!" was certainly some shock!

But gradually I've come to see that there's philosophy in those four words—perhaps even real religion. And certainly there's the salvation of the human race, if we have the nerve to hang on to them.

"I can't be bothered"—that does not mean that the speaker has no heart. But it does mean that he has a head, which refuses to be overruled by every passing demand and disturbance. He puts it more poetically, but he meant the same thing when he wrote:

"It matters not how strait the gate, How charged with punishment the scold, I am the master of my fate; I am the captain of my soul!"

You are the captain of your soul and it's up to you to safeguard that soul's efficiency by keeping it locked against bother. Once let your bother invade you and everything will get your goat. You'll be the victim of every wheeze of humanity and sneeze of destiny. And your usefulness to yourself or the other fellow will be completely destroyed. For bother buys you nothing but red eyes and blood pressure.

Realize and recognize need to keep yourself sensitive and tolerant toward pain and trouble. But don't let it get you down. Get busy but refuse to be bothered. Don't admit that anything can lick you, for nothing can lick you if you refuse to admit it.

"I can't be bothered!"—there, in a slinky capsule, is the marching song of civilization. Bother was all our cave-fathers knew. Danger and disaster, fear and ignorance, time and space bothered them. They were at the mercy of the darkness about them and the greater darkness within themselves.

Slowly they conquered bother. Little by little they proved that man was master of his fate. They learned to kill animals, save food, fight fire and disease. And NOW THEY CONQUER TIME AND SPACE.

Little weak man standing up and flumping his nose at destiny, crying out, "I can't be bothered!" and triumphing over destiny because he has the courage to make that cry!

Make that cry! Face this new day with its thousands of tiny, waiting pressures and demands and say: "I can't be bothered!" And you won't be!

been all hung up removing a type-writer ribbon. I would have taken the myopic metropolitan misfit to an oculist.

Then there is the rich man from Oklahoma who quit New York after eight months for back yard. "I tried to go city," he said, "but calling a sofa a chaise longue is too much."

The New York theater, in the manner of Mr. Coolidge: On the whole there are many shows in town. Some are good. Many are bad. We may always expect such conditions. The theater is the theater. Black is black. This season is looked for much better plays. We did not get them.

It was inevitable. A syndicate is being formed to purchase the New York site of the saloon where John Masfield, England's poet laureate, was a roustabout. It will become a tea room with clint cures at the Colony.

If a Broadway act becomes too zealous in his craving for publicity he is afflicted with "flash-light poison."

It just occurs to me if the barber across from the St. Louis Union Station who took me for $4.50 for a haircut and a shave during the war. Fair is alive all is forgiven. I have just been host at a luncheon party at the Colony.

I was right in the middle of the romantic story of how I secured my first job in New York—you know, Ragged Dick, the story of a boy who came up from the gutter—when I chanced to peek at the right-side-down figures of a blackboard.

I checked. The entire room seemed to spin and out of the air came a voice: "I'm a nigger myself, you know, trying to carry on."

Don't remember how I finished. It was all a bit of a daze. But I do know it was my first luncheon party in 15 years since my last from now on.

"For ten cents," postcard the boys at New York. "We would tell you what we think of you."

Don't. My head is swelled already.

National Bargain Season

And Some Who Benefit

POTTERY WORKER

SILVER MINER

With prices cut a third or a half from last year's figures the American housewife finds that these are days when careful spending is the best saving.

Millions of families throughout the country are taking advantage of the prevalent low prices to stock their homes with needed supplies that will last them half a lifetime, or longer. This is a national bargain season. It will not be here forever. The woman who holds the family pursestrings sees that, and is buying in a buyer's market. Her dollar goes farther today than it did in the past or will go in the future.

Never before, perhaps, was advertising scanned so carefully by purchasers. By comparing prices and quality, the woman who feeds and clothes a family or furnishes a home finds articles within her reach that a few months ago would have knocked the domestic budget out of the ruts.

The real news today, for all women and most men, is found in the advertising columns.

It is lucky for the country that its people are beginning again to buy. The money spent for necessities, or even for luxuries, makes jobs for the nation's workers. When you lay in a new supply of linen for your dining-room table, for instance, you help to fill the pay envelopes of men and women in the textile mills. The silver funds that these are days when careful spending is the best saving.

We are more interested in getting our money's worth, or a little more, when we buy.

Just now, all who buy are getting their money's worth, and then some.

If not, it is because they can't read prices, tags. The opportunities are here. You can find them listed for you in the columns of ANY newspaper.

Hockey Aids Charity

Adams Shows the Way

Charles F. Adams joins the ranks of public-spirited citizens in dividing profits with charity when he announces he is giving two and one-half per cent of the gross receipts from this season's Boston Bruins' home hockey games to various charities.

There are no ifs or ands about Mr. Adams' plan. He is not seeking to stimulate sales for the games, because they are sold out anyhow.

He has selected the following charities for the distribution of the two and one-half per cent from the games on the dates given:

Game 1—Nov. 11 (Armistice Night)—Disabled Veterans Hospital Service Christmas Remembrance Committee.

Game 2—Nov. 18—Boston Post Santa Claus.

Game 3—Nov. 25—Boston American Christmas Basket Fund.

Game 4—Dec. 2—Industrial School for Crippled and Deformed Children; New England Home for Host Males (contribution divided equally).

Game 5—Dec. 9—Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

Game 6—Dec. 16—Field of St. Elizabeth's Hospital; Martin Luther League Home (contribution divided equally).

Game 7—Dec. 23—Associated Jewish Philanthropies.

Game 8—Dec. 30—Boston Dispensary.

Game 9—Dec. 30—American Red Cross.

Onward and Upward

The Far East Goes Modern

You can't halt the march of civilization, as it is humorously called. The remote island of Bali, near Java, is being modernized and improved by tourists and go-getters from America. It used to be a place where everybody had enough to eat, where everybody sang and danced, where art flourished, where nature was more beautiful than you could imagine, where there were no automobiles, no filling stations, no hot dog stands or billboards, and where nobody worked. But now, unless something is done speedily, Bali is to be elevated from its present barbarity and placed on a level with, say, Guyanaland.

And there is Pitcairn Island in the Pacific, populated by descendants of the mutineers of the Bounty, who have lived happily for generations, but who are now to be uplifted by the gift of movies, a radio and a grand piano. And there is another obscure Pacific reef, a quarter of a mile long and 200 yards wide, where the native chief has recently acquired a Ford car.

Thus are the blessings of a machine age spread to those who dwell in "outer darkness"—and don't know it.
